

LIVING IN NOTTING HILL

Notting Hill balances the tranquillity of a residential leafy area with the buzz of the city. Beautifully manicured gardens, parks, restaurants and Portobello Market combine to make the area a hugely desirable location.

Residents of Notting Hill are attracted to the 'bohemian-meets-cool' atmosphere and the diverse mix of people and places, from the serene garden squares to the boutiques and café culture of Westbourne Grove and the hustle and bustle of Portobello Road. Notting Hill properties offer a mix of highly sought after elegant stucco fronted houses with communal gardens to contemporary apartments and stylish flats.

Best known for:

Portobello Road market (a mecca for bargain hunters) and its starring role in the iconic movie Notting Hill with Hugh Grant and Julia Roberts.

Borough:

The Royal Borough of Kensington and Chelsea, The City of Westminster.

Social and cultural attractions:

Notting Hill is home to Europe's largest street party - the Notting Hill Carnival. It also offers a huge range of bars, gastropubs and award-winning restaurants. Electric Cinema and the Coronet show the latest blockbusters and The Gate Picture house is well known for art-house films.

Sport and leisure facilities:

Notting Hill is close to Hyde Park, Kensington Gardens and Holland Park. Holland Park is renowned for its Kyoto Gardens, sports facilities and picturesque walk to Kensington High Street. There are also a number of cycling routes, sports clubs, yoga and Pilates centres.

Getting around:

Notting Hill has stations on the District, Central and Circle Lines.

Our favourite places:

The Ledbury, a restaurant with two Michelin stars; The Oak, for wood-fired pizzas; E&O for pan-Asian cuisine and inventive cocktails; and the Hummingbird Bakery, for exquisite cupcakes.
