

LIVING IN CANARY WHARF

Historically known for its docks, the area has been regenerated over 20 years to become one of London's financial centres, offering a mix of gleaming steel and glass structures on the banks of the Thames.

London's flagship area for commerce and technology, is a striking mix of gleaming steel and glass structures met by garden areas and the banks of the Thames. Some of the most striking and modern houses, warehouse conversion apartments and penthouses have sprung up, as the Docklands has flourished and only miles east of the city.

The Canary Wharf Management team operate regular security patrol checks around the financial district making it a safe and secure place to live.

Best known for:

Skyscrapers, Docklands location and for being one of London's two financial centres.

Borough:

London Borough of Tower Hamlets.

Social and Cultural attractions:

Along with the Museum of London Docklands, which is situated in a former sugar warehouse, there are more than 200 shops, bars and restaurants including Parlour, Boisdale and Gordon Ramsay's The Narrow. The shopping centre also hosts events ranging from sculpture exhibitions to tango lessons.

Sports and Leisure facilities:

There are a number of big-name fitness centres and many of the residential developments have on-site leisure facilities. Being situated by the water makes for scenic walks, runs and cycling trips, and an ice rink opens over the Christmas period.

Getting around:

Canary Wharf has easy links around London with stations on Jubilee line and the DLR.

Our favourite places:

Boisdale, a lively Scottish restaurant with a cigar library; The Grapes, a traditional English pub serving great seafood; The Narrow, Gordon Ramsay's gastropub; Canary Wharf shopping centre.
